Brothers Nick and Nigel Bottom have hit, well, bottom, and that dastardly bard, William Shakespeare, dominates the London theatre scene. It would take a miracle to predict the next great hit that will leave Shakespeare in the dust. Enter Thomas Nostradamus, the slightly less talented nephew of the famous Nostradamus, who predicts the earth-shattering notion of "A Musical!" What ensues is musical comedy genius with song, dance, and deceit as the brothers attempt to preempt Shakespeare's next big hit.

SOMETHING ROTTEN* IS A TOP TIER CLEVER MUSICAL!

JULY 24-AUGUST 14

I think that for all, it's slapstick comedy and at times somewhat scandalous humor. There is some extremely clever writing that underline an important message: Family is what is really important. We can extend that to the relationships we have with close friends and colleagues, but when it all comes down to it, it's those people that we count on at the most vital times in our lives. This is so important now as we venture back out into the world, eager to enjoy and explore everything we have had to go without for so long. We cannot forget the lessons we learned the past two years which is how to reconnect with others, and with ourselves. If we do forget, then we have simply wasted that time. This show reminds us that when it counts we all can look and find our "right hand man".

2022 VOLUNTEER APPRECIATION CELEBRATION

As an all-volunteer organization, LTVB celebrates all volunteers each and every day. But on June 26, there was a special celebration for The Village that made the 2021/2022 LTVB season one of our most successful.

When we asked our volunteers to stand if they worked any of the following shows:

Nunsense
Baskerville
Hello Dolly
The Importance of Being Earnest
The Miss Firecracker Contest
Clue

Over a dozen of the volunteers had worked each and every show. There were so many who went above and beyond it was challenging to select the Annual Volunteer of the Year. As a result, as hard as it was, we narrowed down the Volunteer of the Year Award to three individuals:

David Prescott
Jorja Jean
Pam Stokes

Fun, games and door prizes followed with a Theatre Bingo that featured plays produced by LTVB over the last 15 years!

One of the highlights of our volunteer celebration is the door prizes donated by friends of LTVB in the community. There were over 40 door prizes distributed by Sister Amnesia of Nunsense to our volunteers.

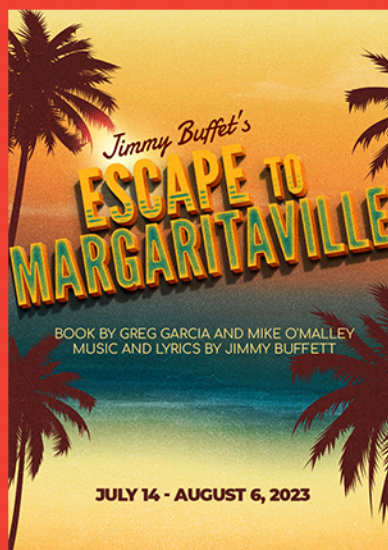

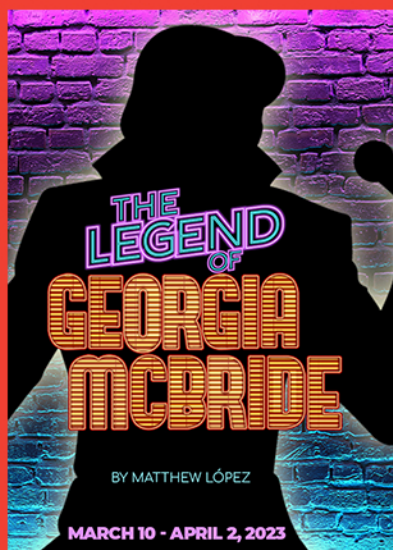

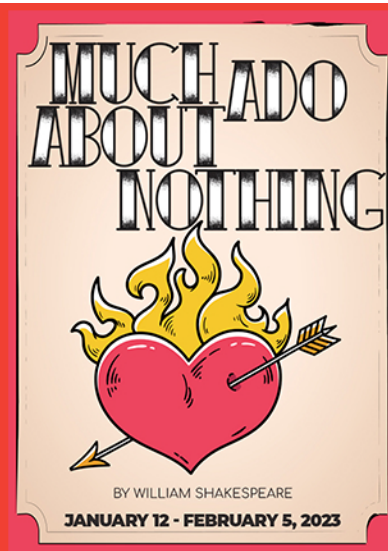

Thank you, thank you to all our volunteers and to our dear and generous friends in the community.

We would like the following organizations and businesses for their generous door prize donations:

ADVENTURE PARK
COBALT GRILL
EURASIA
HARRIS TEETER
HUNT CLUB FARM
JAVA SURF
LTVB
MARCO'S PIZZA
SAVOR THE OLIVE
THE BEAUTY TREE SPA
VIRGINIA STAGE COMPANY
ZEIDERS AMERICAN DREAM THEATER
